FITTING INSTRUCTIONS

- To fit the Air Intake Cover on the right side of the bike, the plastic bodywork around the air duct needs to be removed. To do this, remove the bolt arrowed in picture 1, along with the two push rivets on the back side and gently pull away, as shown in picture 2.
- With the plastic cover removed, the OEM grille can be accessed. To remove this, undo the two button head bolts that secure it in place, as shown in picture 2.
- Now fit the R&G Air Intake Cover, making sure the brushed side with the logo is facing towards the front of the motorcycle before refitting using the OEM bolts. The OEM grille can be re-fitted underneath the R&G Air Intake Cover if desired.
- Re-fit the plastic cover and then the two push rivets and bolt that secure the right side air duct in place.
- To fit the left sided Air Intake Cover in place, follow the same procedure on the other side of the bike.
